1. Corn_Fields - What are your character's pet peeves?

Love this question!

Pren can't stand Natali's outfits, although she's too nice to say anything--yet. She also hates the fact that Selena never goes grocery shopping and she's left to fend for herself when she can't drive.

Selena has many pet peeves. Everything bugs her, on the outside, On the inside, having spent more of her recent life in Seattle than Eder, she feels more comfortable around Luken and Pren than any of the other Sorgin. She and Natali are still getting to know each other, but that also frightens Selena. She has her own secrets. Many of them. Ones that she doesn't want Natali or anyone in Eder to find out about.

Luken is a lover, not a fighter. Not that he won't beat up someone if they push him, but he's always been the peacemaker. He's fine with almost anything, almost.

Natali is all pet peeves :) But she's trying to get over them. Her feelings of not being good enough left over from her dad's betrayal make her resistant to accepting how happy she is in her home in Seattle. She doesn't want to ever feel that way again.

2. The Archer - How did Natalie's mother meet her father?

At Suggar's Bar. He was a great dancer. She was the Ikuzi in Seattle. Her sister, Selena, took her place when she died.

3. Allaine! - Is there a hierarchy of the creatures?

Not so much creatures like the Bajajaun, but Mari is on the top of the hierarchy ladder. She's the all-powerful goddess. Then the gods, like her ex Suggar come next in terms of power, but there are very few of those. The Council of Eder rules since Mari's,ahem (no spoilers here,) sudden departure. Not sure that's the right word but we don't want to give anything away on this. Post Council comes Ikuzi but they're soldiers, and report to the Council.

4. Shana Mondesir - Does Natalie's sibling play any role in the story? Will they meet?

YES!

5.Kyoto Mizushima - I'm wondering how secret their world is to the humans, because it seems like some would know, bit most wouldn't

The only humans who know are those who work for them, and there are very few of those. None know where Eder is, or how to get in. And they couldn't get in even if they tried. Not yet anyway... :)

6. Victoria Turner - Is Natalis step mother one of the vampires?

She's not one of the Luro sisters. However, there's no telling what she's become after all those years in politics. Ick!

7. Sarisk - Are there going to be any new characters coming soon?

More likely characters who will come back again. Ones we haven't seen in a while. But there may be one or two new ones.

8, Seyer - How Much episodes will the series hace?, i'm really enjoying the series btw

We did this first season as 6 issues in a traditional comic single issue. On Webtoon, it breaks down to many more chapters than that. There's still plenty more to come...and hopefully, a whole new season after that! ;)

9. Ambivalence - Why did Natalie's mother die?

You will know by the end of the first season! Promise!

10. Norma Degross - How will Natalie back story be like? Like her personality in the future. Will she ever be in a relationship with someone (maybe a date) or try to at least get some sort of relationship with her father and other people around her?

Natali has serious trust issues. She felt betrayed by her father when she was little, and didn't get much more acceptance in Eder (which we'll see more of later on.) She is of mixed blood, and in Eder considered a lesser Sorgin. But she became the Ikuzi. She should feel powerful, and there are times when she does, but she also is unsure of herself, which leads to the catastrophic mess she makes sometimes when doing magic. Selena is trying to teach her control, but it's really up to Natali to figure out what inside makes her "lose it."

Natali is slowly finding out that this home in Seattle, full of societal "orphans" like her is where she truly belongs. She'll have relationships, romantic and close friendships. But as an Ikuzi, those relationships can be a burden when things go terribly wrong...hint...hint...

Claudia is working day and night! She hasn't slept in a month! There will be a new chapter next week, we promise. They we may let her take a short-short-nap :)
